AMERICAN LEGATION IS UNDER SIEGE; ADDIS ABABA PILLAGED

BUSINESS CENTER OF ADDIS ABABA IS COMPLETE WRECK

TWO DAYS OF RIOTING AND LOOTING LEFT CITY AT MERCY OF INVADERS

ADDIS ABABA, May 4. (By The Associated Press and Other American Correspondents, Collaborating in use of limited transmission facilities)—Rampaging rioters and looters left a ruined Ethiopian capital open to occupation by the Italian army today after two days of pillaging, firing and killing during which an American woman fell among the uncounted victims.

The business center of the town was wrecked, streets were strewn with corpses, government buildings were stormed and some foreign mission and legation quarters were attacked in the native campaign to raze the capital.

A reaction set in last night, however, the bandits being forced to defend their loot against law-abiding warriors and fearing reprisals from the advancing fascists.

The looters began taking to the hills, with the Italians reported reaching the Akaki plain, only ten miles out of the capital, and white flags flying along the highway.

The only foreigner known to have perished in the two days of terror was Mrs. N. A. Stadin, American wife of an American missionary. She was killed in her sleep at dawn yesterday by a bullet which pierced the galvanized roof of the mission.

American women and children who had taken refuge in the United States legation were removed last night to the strong British legation on the opposite side of the capital.

Remains With Husband. Mrs. Cornelius Van H. Engert, wife of the American minister, was killed.

Arrest Suspect In Murder Pretty Salt Lake Girl

SALT LAKE CITY, May 4.—(AP)—Police today announced the arrest of a long-sought suspect in the brutal attack-slashing of blonde Ruth Shaw, 20, whose body was found March 22 in a snowbank in historic emigration canyon.

The man was captured today in a tourist camp at Green River, Wyoming, and was started at once for Salt Lake City.

Authorities said he gave the name of Ben H. Pack, Jr., 21, who they said they have been trailing since the pretty unemployed bookkeeper's body was found.

FOREIGN SECRETARY EDEN INFORMED HOUSE OF COMMONS OF DECISION

By CHARLES P. NUTTER, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

LONDON, May 4.—(AP)—The British government today asked Sir Sidney Barton, its minister to Ethiopia, to do everything possible to help the United States legation in Addis Ababa.

Sir Sidney, who has 150 Sikhs, the famous British fighters from India, at his command was expected to attempt a relief of the embattled American legation which was reported surrounded by a mob of armed Ethiopians.

Cornelius Van H. Engert, United States minister to Addis Ababa was fighting off the mob with a few companions, including members of his staff.

The British government's instructions were conveyed to Sir Sidney by wireless, at the suggestion of Ambassador Robert W. Bingham, the United States envoy to the Court of St. James.

Bingham went to the foreign office on instructions from Washington and asked whether the British legation in Addis Ababa could help the American legation hold out against the mob.

Engert's request, as relayed from

The location of the American legation, under siege Monday from mutinous Ethiopian soldiers, is shown as is the British legation, directly across the city, which is expected to send relief. The Italian troops are momentarily expected to enter the city unopposed.

COMMERCE WOMAN FREED OF CHARGE POISONING LITTLE DAUGHTER

GREENVILLE, May 4.—(AP)—Joyful over her absolution of a charge that she caused the death of one of her little daughters by poisoning, Mrs. Velma Patterson confidently awaited today a prosecution move regarding a similar charge in the death of another daughter.

The 34-year old brunette widow, acquitted yesterday of an accusation that she murdered Dorothy McCasland, 12, through administration of poison, hoped District Attorney Henry Pharr would move for dismissal of a murder charge in the death of Billie Mae McCasland, 11.

She was prepared to insist that her attorney attempt to obtain her release on bond.

"When I get out I will take my son (Junior McCasland) and go to the home of my sister, Mrs. Clara Purcell, in El Paso for a long rest."

Shouting with joy, Mrs. Patterson ran to the box enclosing the jury of farmers and shook hands with the men when the verdict

ALLEGED DISTRIBUTION OF POISONED CANDY AND SANDWICHES BRING REPRISALS

By H. E. KNOBLAUGH, Associated Press Foreign Staff. MADRID, May 4.—(AP)—Rioters, incited by rumors that priests and nuns were distributing poisoned candy to children, set fire to more than 12 Roman Catholic churches, schools and monasteries today. At least 32 persons were wounded.

The fiercest rioting since October, 1934, spread through the northern part of the capital.

Two of those wounded were nuns. Five churches, two convent schools and two homes of priests were virtually destroyed by rioters who cut fire hose and threatened firemen attempting to save the buildings.

U. S. MINISTER BATTLED AGAINST RIOTOUS NATIVES

FIRST ATTACK ON LEGATION REPULSED; ATTACKS LATER BEGAN AGAIN

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP)—After beating off one vicious assault by Ethiopian bandits, the minister to Ethiopia today told Washington the "situation is getting worse" and appealed for British assistance to protect America's legation.

Evidencing the danger threatening the tiny group of Americans still holding the legation against marauders, was the serious wounding of two native women in the servants' quarters.

Cornelius Van H. Engert, the minister reported with pride how a handful of Americans and native servants had driven off a bandit attack at 9 o'clock in the morning (2 a. m. eastern standard time) after his wife narrowly escaped bullets of the rioters.

"I can not speak too highly of comrades who grasped at once the importance of energetic action," he said.

But six hours later, Engert appealed for British aid through the state department, hoping London could reach Sir Sidney Barton, the minister at Ethiopia, by wireless because his own messengers could not get through the shot-riddled capital.

Then two hours later at 5 p. m.,

AMERICANS BATTLE FOR LIVES AGAINST NATIVE MARAUDERS

EMPEROR HAILE SELASSIE TO SEEK REFUGE IN HAIFA, PALESTINE

By The Associated Press. With a second-hand machine-gun and a handful of friends, Cornelius Van H. Engert, United States minister to Ethiopia, was holding off a mob attempting to storm the United States legation in Addis Ababa tonight.

The fighting diplomat reported by radio that it "would be a great pity to be obliged to abandon" the house from which fly the Stars and Stripes.

He asked the state department in Washington to make contact with the well-fortified British legation in Addis Ababa with a view to loaning him a few Sikh—the native Indian soldiers on guard at the British compound.

The British government immediately stated Sir Sidney Barton, British minister to Addis Ababa, to assist the Americans.

The French minister to Addis Ababa reported to his government that an Italian airplane fell into the city at noon.

A British missionary was reported wounded in the street rioting, and French legation trucks, armed with automatic rifles, went out in an attempt to clear the streets of wounded. Haile Selassie, whose flight from the capital led to the present bloody rioting there, boarded a British cruiser at Djibouti and started for the safety of Palestine under the protection of the United Jack.

NORTH METHODIST CHURCH APPROVES UNIFICATION PLAN FIRST STEP TAKEN IN CREATION GREATEST PROTESTANT UNIT IN WORLD

By HAROLD K. MILKS Associated Press Staff Writer

MEMPHIS, O., May 4.—(P)—Delegates to the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church overwhelmingly approved today its unification with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church.

Unification of the three churches, if approved by the other two bodies, would create the Methodist church, a membership of 8,000,000—the largest Protestant body in the world.

The vote for approval was 470 to 33. It followed a two-hour debate on the plan, which met a protest from negro delegates.

Ovations followed the vote and the delegates sang "Marching Onward to Zion."

The Methodist Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church governing bodies have indicated the proposal would receive their approval. The Methodist church, which convenes May 20 at High Point, N. C.

Under the unification plan, a "Methodist church" would be established a year after ratification by the general conferences and a three-fourths majority of the annual conferences.

however, remained with her husband and all other male members of the staff at their virtually unfortified legation.

A. A. Amble, American head of the Ethiopian Mission service, was shifted at his headquarters by shifters (bandits) leaving the capital, but members of his staff, barricaded behind barbed wire, held out for several days, killing one and wounding one.

The head of the British Red Cross unit, Dr. Melley, was wounded seriously while dragging the wounded in on the streets.

But was rescued, given a blood transfusion, and was expected to survive.

The first wild orgy, precipitated by the flight of the Italian legation, continued yesterday.

The American correspondents, barricaded in their own compound near the government radio station, abandoned their post under fire shortly before dawn after being subjected to repeated attacks.

Turkish Legation Assault.

Bands moved against the Turkish legation for an assault, but finally fled, leaving 12 dead.

In the center of the town, eight persons were known to have been slain, but the full number of mutilated bodies could not be determined.

Lorries from the various legations carried foreigners to shelter. The greater part of the native populace participated in the reign of terror with the evident intention of leaving only ruins of the town for the Italian conquerors.

The headquarters of the Ethiopian Red Cross were destroyed.

One desperate fight centered around the government treasury. A mob stormed the machine gun posts of the "gold house," some dying and others having their hands chopped off in the assault.

The raiders, tramping over the bodies of their cohorts, finally succeeded yesterday in seizing the government's store of gold.

Remaining government munition stores were exploded, and the custom house and post office were destroyed by fire, together with the entire business district.

Dogs Gnaw at Bodies

When the reaction set in and the looters left the bloody, smoldering ruins of their handiwork, "pariah" dogs came forth in droves for the first time since the destruction started, to gnaw at the mutilated bodies of men and beasts.

With the rioters retiring and organized resistance to the Italian campaign ended, only warriors from the Galla tribes remained about the capital to oppose the fascists.

Small groups of about 20 warriors, each armed with a spear, dressed as men, brandished sabers.

New law and order was anticipated, however, after the arrival of the Italian army.

Foreign residents of Addis Ababa, once prosperous, but now ruined by the desolation spread by the infuriated natives, flames from the burning ruins still flared, and regretted that the Italians had not entered 36 hours ago.

Reports of the looting and burning in Abiss Ababa and the flight of Emperor Haile Selassie gave the Italians a chance to renew their assertion that the Ethiopian empire had crumbled and that Italian domination must be recognized by the world.

Badoglio's communique, which was based on yesterday's troop movements, said:

"Our motorized column passed beyond Tanaber and occupied Debra Birhan, the former capital of Shoa. (Debra Birhan is 75 miles from Addis Ababa.)

"Our advance guards are 40 kilometers (25 miles) beyond Debra Birhan.

"On the Southern front, our rapid advance continued despite very heavy rains.

"Our troops have reached a point 50 kilometers (50 miles) beyond Dargah Bur and have beaten and dispersed the warriors of Omar Samantar, responsible for the murder of Captain Carletti in 1935 and which later enrolled as a chief in the pay of Emperor Haile Selassie. Ethiopian time, Engert, without saying whether a massed attack on the legation appeared imminent, wirelessly this terse message:

"Situation is getting worse. Several direct shots fired at buildings and radio station since this morning, and our own men in our servants' quarters have been seriously wounded."

In response to Engert's appeal, the state department reached Robert W. Bingham, ambassador in London, by telephone and Bingham immediately set out to communicate with the British foreign office.

Bingham was assured by British officials that they would endeavor to communicate Engert's request to Addis Ababa, but that nothing had been heard so far to date from the British radio station there.

"With the assistance of a few British Indian troops who were sent to the British legation, one Lewis gun we could hold this legation if Italians arrive within a few days," was the message Engert wanted transmitted to the British legation in Addis Ababa.

Throughout the Ethiopian capital, Engert said, "random firing continued unabated" and that several buildings "are still ablaze."

After the first attack on the legation, a sub-machine gun was added to the legation's meager armory. Brought in by an Ethiopian policeman, it was of Italian make.

President Roosevelt kept in close touch with the situation, receiving official dispatches from the state department as fast as they were received there. There was no White House comment, however on the attack on the American legation.

The trucker placed 300 pounds of ice in his truck when he left for market Saturday morning, and returned again for the same amount Monday morning when he started off with another load, Mr. Edens reported.

He said however that the trucker did not explain the exact manner in which the ice served to prevent the shrinkage nor the extent of the savings.

eight minutes after he entered the death chamber.

He had been surly and somewhat unkind as a prisoner, officials said, but his attitude as he went to his death was that of a composed man. He had boasted on hearing the death sentence passed: "I'm man enough to take mine."

Stalcup was electrocuted for the slaying of Sheriff Arthur during a jailbreak at Dickens Oct. 27, 1934. When he and Clarence Brown escaped from the jail, Stalcup was an escaped prisoner from the penitentiary and 254 years in sentences were marked against his criminal career, begun, his father said, when he was only a boy, just about 22.

The last avenue by which Stalcup hoped to escape the chair was closed when Acting Governor Walter Woodruff refused clemency Saturday on the heels of an adverse ruling by the board of pardons on a plea for commutation to life imprisonment.

Stalcup's wife and his mother, Mrs. E. M. Stalcup, pleaded that Brown acted that he and not Stalcup fired the fatal shot at the officer. The acting governor, however, said he would not interfere.

Confirmed Killer.

The pardons board, however, said it appeared the gun used in the slaying was smuggled into the jail for Brown but he "did not have the nerve to use the gun and ran away."

The pardons board joined with the court of criminal appeals in "richly deserved."

Stalcup's first visit to the penitentiary was in 1930 on robbery sentences of 45, 30 and 5 years from Wichita, Potter and Wilbarr counties. Four years later he escaped and ended a string of robberies with the Dickens jail break.

Stalcup and Brown fled in the sheriff's automobile. Stalcup was captured without resistance six days later in Houston and Brown still in possession of the slain officer's car, was arrested shortly afterward in Galveston county. Stalcup was convicted in Lubbock county Feb. 25, 1935.

"This is the woman's first marriage, died early this year. Last month the bodies were exhumed from the little Pleasant Grove cemetery near Commerce and the viscera of each examined by Dr. Landon C. Moore, Dallas chemical expert.

Although the death certificates attributed the deaths to intestinal influenza, Dr. Moore reported he found poison in both bodies.

The state case was built on the testimony of Dr. Moore and statements from the stand that Mrs. Patterson wanted to marry a cat-teman "if it wasn't for the children." Testimony also was introduced that she had rat poison purchased for her, although rats were not present in her home.

The defense countered with witnesses who said Mrs. Patterson exhibited deep devotion for her children and that she had sent Dorothy to church and Sunday school.

When Dorothy died, the defense claimed, the mother cried: "Oh, I wish it had been me."

In determining whether to abandon the legation.

The attack had not been unexpected. Engert notified the department yesterday he was prepared to resist any efforts to extend the pillaging and burning which raged through much of Ethiopia's capital to the American legation.

Italian Plane Fell Into Addis Ababa

PARIS, May 4.—(P)—Paul Bodard, France's minister to Ethiopia, wirelessly his government today that an Italian airplane fell into Addis Ababa at noon.

The report did not say whether the plane had been shot down, or give any other details of the incident.

The state of siege of the French legation, which earlier Bodard had reported menaced by its own native guard which mutilated, apparently had relaxed for the minister said that legation trucks, manned by employees with automatic rifles, had gone out into the streets to pick up the wounded.

He said the whole city was occupied by groups of mutinous soldiers armed with machine guns. They had looted the native quarters, he said, and it was feared they planned a mass attack on the foreign legations.

He stated that all French citizens, including those who took refuge in the railroad station, were safe.

The legation guards mutilated and turned its guns on the legation building.

Meanwhile, three churches were burned in Cadiz province and two homes of priests were destroyed.

In the village of Castor a church in the village of Castor was wrecking its statues and destroying a painting. The Castor village priest was driven from town and threatened with death if he returned.

A priest in the village of Algar suffered like treatment and his home and church were destroyed.

In a third anti-clerical outburst in Cadiz, a church under construction in the village of Isla Guadalupe was burned to the ground.

Police patrols, after putting down the rioting, circulated throughout the Cuatro Caminos area at dusk.

The Ave Maria school, the Salesian, the convent of Los Angeles, and the Los Angeles chapel, all in the Cuatro Caminos district, were virtually destroyed by the flames.

The shouting mobs tried to prevent firemen from approaching the burning buildings and extra forces of assault guards were rushed to the scene to restore order.

The disorders began last night with rioting in which seven persons were hurt around the Los Angeles chapel.

A group of priests and women took refuge in the chapel until morning, but assault guards removed them to safety and protected them from the infuriated crowd which later fired the buildings.

After several days of whispers which alleged that nuns and priests had been distributing allegedly poisoned articles, the crowds began getting out of hand last night.

Heavy forces of guards, starting a patrol of the district, arrested three women and a boy on a charge of spreading the rumors about candy.

Authorities said that, so far as they knew, no actual cases of poisoning had been reported.

GOVERNMENT PLANS EARLY ARRAIGNMENT FOR ALVIN KARPIS

KIDNAPING TO BE CHARGE; INDICTMENT SOUGHT ON MURDER CHARGE ALSO

ST. PAUL, May 4.—(P)—The government today planned an early arraignment of Alvin Karpis on kidnapping charges as county authorities at Minneapolis moved to seek his indictment there for bank robbery and murder.

U. S. District Attorney George F. Sullivan said Karpis would be assigned on four kidnapping and conspiracy counts in the abductions of two St. Paul business leaders, William Hamm, Jr., brewer, and Edward G. Bremer, banker. The time has not been set, he said, but it would be soon. The maximum penalty for kidnapping is life imprisonment.

Protracted questioning of Karpis continued today as federal agents attempted to learn additional details of the kidnapping plots and the names of other accomplices—particularly the money changes who handled the $100,000 Hamm ransom.

A federal building, Ed J. Goff, Hennepin (Minneapolis) county attorney, announced he was taking steps to have the outlaw indicted for murder and bank robbery in that city.

Goff asserted the charges were based on Karpis' participation in the holdup of the Third National Bank in Minneapolis, 1932, when two police men and a motorist were slain by the robbers. Goff said witnesses to the robbery would view Karpis, and if they identify him, the case would be presented to the grand jury.

PROMINENT NAVARRO COUNTY PHYSICIAN BURIED AT FROST

PIONEER RESIDENT DIED FOLLOWING SEVERAL YEARS FAILING HEALTH

FROST, May 2.—(Spl.)—Funeral rites for Dr. Rice Knox, aged 82 years, pioneer physician of this community, who died Friday morning at 1:20 o'clock after several years failing health, were held from the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock with interment in the local cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Buckner, pastor of the Methodist church here, assisted by Rev. D. K. Robinson, close personal friend of Dr. Knox.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews, including J. M. Tullis, of Corsicana and Knox Doyle of Dallas.

Following are portions of a story written several years ago by J. E. Laney, editor of the Frost Enterprise, a close personal friend of the deceased:

"One of more versatile pen than the writer might weave a colorful story of romance and adventure and the life of this retired physician.

Born in Missouri.

"Born in Roanoke, Missouri, the youngest of a family of seven, he learned early in life discipline, and naturally built around himself a wall of reserve and independence, which has been interpreted by acquaintances as indifference, or possibly harshness. But those of his friends who know him best, those to whom he has ministered in the sick room, know that underneath that brusque manner beats a heart warm, sympathetic and understanding, especially for those who have come up through the school of hard knocks.

"He prepared himself for his life's work in some of the leading universities of the country. Bellevue University, N. Y.; Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia; Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.; receiving his Bachelor of Medical Science Degree from University of Missouri.

Taught School.

"For a short time he taught school in Missouri and then headed to Texas and the wide open spaces.

"He landed at Crossroads, hung out his shingle and was soon a full-fledged country doctor. Many and interesting are the incidents recounted by Dr. Knox, which filled those early years, years in which he began to amass what was later to become a comfortable fortune, and it is to his credit that a substantial portion of his first earnings went back to his mother at the old home at Roanoke, Missouri; the home from which he had gone as a boy of 18 with $13 in his pocket with which to get an education.

"In 1887 Dr. Knox made his entrance into Frost. x x x For many years, his sister, Mrs. Doyle, and her four children made their home with him. Only two of the family surviving now, Mrs. Pete Tullis of Corsicana, and Knox Doyle of Dallas. x x x One seldom meets a better informed man than Dr. Knox. His reading has been supplemented by extensive travel. In 1909 he spent four months touring Europe, visiting Russia, France, Germany, England, Ireland, Holland and many other places."

COMPLAINT FILED CHARGES THEFT OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS

A man giving his name as M. J. Lundy, formerly of Mississippi, was named in a theft complaint accepted Saturday by the criminal district attorney's office and filed before Judge W. T. McFadden.

Officers reported that the accused is alleged to have represented himself to railroad employees as L. A. Lundy, Jr., owner of clothing and household effects valued at $1,500 shipped from New Orleans.

L. A. Lundy, Jr., rightful owner of the property, is the new district representative of the National Biscuit Company in Corsicana, and had shipped his property from New Orleans.

Mrs. Lundy called for the property Friday afternoon and was advised that it had been delivered to a residence on West Sixth avenue on the orders of a man representing himself as L. A. Lundy, Jr., earlier in the day. Investigation revealed some of the property had been opened and had been sold. That sold was recovered late Friday afternoon. A search warrant was issued and a quantity of the missing clothing was found on the premises. Included in the property sold was a radio, an electric fan, etc.

The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd.

MAN HELD IN JAIL HERE MANY MONTHS RELEASED ON BAIL

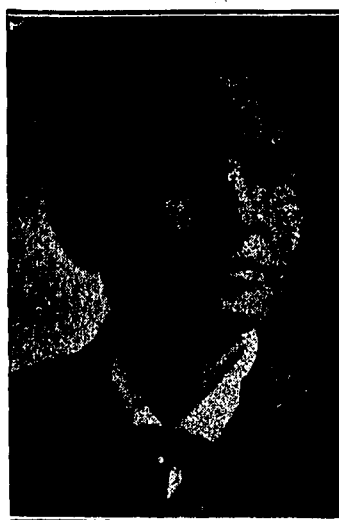

J. T. Perry, held in the Navarro county jail almost a year following his arrest in connection with the alleged swindling of local banks in a series of check manipulations last May, was released on four bonds totalling $1,200 Saturday.

He was convicted and sentenced to two years on his trial on an indictment for conspiracy to commit theft. The case was reversed and remanded by the criminal appeals some time ago. The higher court held that the transaction on which Perry was convicted was a misdemeanor and not a felony as charged in the indictment.

Married Thursday Night.

Oscar Andrews and Lillian Knight, both of the Roane community, were married at the home of Judge and Mrs. W. T. McFadden, 226 South Sixteenth street, Thursday night. The ceremony was performed by Judge McFadden. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will reside at Roane.

Pioneer Passes

DR. RICE KNOX
Funeral services were held for Dr. Knox, pioneer Navarro county physician Friday afternoon with burial in the Frost cemetery.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE (58th District)

To the People of Navarro County:

I am a candidate for State Representative from Navarro county in the coming democratic primaries, subject to the action thereof. Read my platform and record below, and keep it:

A serious matter confronts the people of Navarro county in regard to paying the county and district officers out of the general fund of the county. The county gets a very little from the state for officers salaries and the law says that counties shall pay salaries every month. County tax rate will have to be raised very high to meet this expense from the general fund and may have to go on a deficit pretty soon until this new high tax rate comes in.

If you nominate me as your representative I will rectify this matter by working night and day to amend the present law to make it lighter on the people, or I will draw a joint resolution to let the people vote on repeal of the law. The state should at least, pay as much on felony cases as it did under the old law.

I have had experience in getting over hard things in the legislature and I can do it again. And it is going to be hard to rectify this law.

Judging from the law passed it was the policy of the legislature to get as little as possible from the state to pay officers' salaries, but it will be my policy to get more from the state and adjust salaries or let you vote on repealing the law.

I was an active and live member of the State Legislature from Navarro county from 1929 to 1933 and I want to serve again that way.

When you go to the court house to pay your road bond taxes, you find them just about one-third less than where they were before I loyally helped push through the bill to divert one cent gasoline tax to help you pay them. I walked right along with the public schools and help pass a good many laws that helped the children acquire an education as cheap as possible, and get them out of politics in the State Board of Education law, and raised per capita from $13.00 to $16.00 and paved the way to get $17.50 per capita through passage of a law getting high percentage of royalty from leases in Texas river beds—this put the state school fund in good shape.

Help reduce automobile license fees nearly one-half, and keep the first $50,000 license fees in this county, to work our lateral roads.

I favor getting money to pay old folks assistance from liquor tax, natural resources and stop leaks in present tax laws.

For the past 21 years I have owned a farm near Roane and am interested in farming and farmers.

I helped my people while down there and can do it again. Therefore, I ask your support for Representative 58th district, composed of Navarro county.

I ask my acquaintances and others over the city and county to talk for me and I will get the office and you can talk for me as you have a background in me, and you need at this time a man of experience in the legislature to fix the county and district officers' salary law and etc.

Respectfully,

P. S.—Some free work for the Democratic party:

I collected and sent in $1,500.00 for Woodrow Wilson national campaign in 1912, and $1,000.00 for W. J. Bryan in 1908. I was county chairman, also senatorial and congressional chairman. I boosted the party and Navarro county for 20 years in my daily and weekly newspapers.

Seeking Trace Of Stolen Pipe

County officers Saturday afternoon were conducting investigations seeking some trace of two quantities of pipe stolen from local oil concerns this week.

Between 20 and 30 joints of two-inch pipe was reported stolen from the Garitty-Mills lease east of Corsicana sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning, Sheriff Rufus Peyehouse stated Saturday afternoon.

Two-and-a-half joints of three-inch pipe were stolen Wednesday night from the Magnolia Petroleum company yards, Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd was advised late Friday.

Record of Fifteen Years Broken By County Auditor

When J. M. Tullis, Navarro county auditor for the past 15 years, was not present at the regular meeting of the commissioners' court Friday, it marked the first regular meeting he has not attended since his appointment to his present post by the late District Judge Hawkins Scarborough in July, 1921.

Mr. Tullis was absent Friday due to the death of Dr. Rice Knox, pioneer physician of Frost and uncle of Mrs. Tullis.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH WARNING CONCERNING RABIES

INCREASING IN PREVALENCE IN MANY PARTS OF TEXAS, RECORDS SHOW

AUSTIN, May 2.—(Spl.)—Rabies is increasing in prevalence in many parts of Texas, although it may be controlled and even could be exterminated by intelligent measures, according to records of the State Health Department. Unfortunately it has been the practice to wait to apply control measures until the disease is wide spread.

The dog is the chief source of rabies infection in man, but all warm blooded animals are susceptible. Contrary to a wide spread belief, rabies is not a warm weather disease. It occurs just as frequently in the cold months. The most logical procedure in the control of rabies would be to vaccinate all dogs. Where this is impossible the stray dogs should immediately be impounded, for the stray dog is chiefly responsible for the spread of rabies.

Public health authorities are handicapped in their fight against the spread of rabies because of the human element. Rabies is a humanly occurring only infrequently. However, it must be remembered that rabies is 100 per cent fatal once the disease has developed. Treatment is only preventive and must be taken in time.

Do not kill the dog that is behaving strangely or immediately after it has bitten some one. The animal should be captured and kept under observation for ten days to determine whether it has rabies or not. The confinement should be ample secure, for a dog in the frenzy of furious rabies requires a much stronger collar and chain or enclosure than a non-rabid dog.

When the rabies virus is put into the body by a biting dog the virus travels slowly from the wound along the nerves until it reaches the brain and spinal cord. Thus if the bite is on the face the virus does not have far to travel to reach the brain. Consequently bites on the face are the most dangerous and immunization must be started at once.

It is possible to control rabies, but owing to the large territory included in Texas, it will take extra effort on the part of public health workers and the cooperation of the people of each town and county to carry on an educational program for this control.

Taxicab Driver Found Beaten to Death Friday

SAN ANTONIO, May 1.—(AP)—The body of J. E. "Jimmy" Martin, taxi driver, the head badly beaten, was found here early today. The body was lying near the cab. Three dollars were in Martin's pocket.

The taxicab was blood spattered, evidencing a fight between driver and his assailant. Detectives said the man was apparently beaten to death with an axe or a hatchet.

A small boy made the gruesome find as he was driving a cow to pasture.

A 29-year-old ex-soldier and his wife were arrested shortly after the body was found. Detectives said that they had learned the man and the taxi driver had had an altercation three weeks ago. The couple denied any knowledge of the killing.

Million Dollar Oil Penalty Suit Filed by State

AUSTIN, May 2.—(AP)—The attorney general today filed suit against the Hi Grade Oil Company of Houston for $1,084,000 penalties and forfeiture of charter.

District Judge J. D. Moore set for May 16 hearing on the state's application for appointment of a receiver and an injunction to restrain company officials from disposing of assets and withholding records from railroad commission inspection.

The suit alleged the company failed to comply since May 11, 1933, with an act requiring oil companies to keep complete records and permit inspection by commission agents. The state asked penalties of $1,000 for each day of 1,084 days of alleged violation.

The petition stated the company operated two wells on a 38-acre lease in the Conroe field, Montgomery county.

Bronte Robbers Sentenced to 12 Years Leavenworth

SAN ANGELO, May 2.—(AP)—Charles F. White of Amarillo and Jack Walker today were under sentences of 12 years each in Leavenworth federal penitentiary for robbing the First National Bank of Bronte of some $400 July 1 last.

Judge Williams H. Atwell sentenced the pair late yesterday. Walker, a fugitive from a life sentence in the New Mexico penitentiary at the time of the robbery, pleaded guilty. He will be returned to New Mexico after serving the federal sentence.

RAINS IN TEXAS RENEW OPTIMISM FOR COTTON CROP

PRICES HAVE LOST OVER DOLLAR PER BALE IN THE PAST TWO WEEKS

NEW ORLEANS, May 2.—(AP)—With fears subsiding that Texas would be left at the post, this year's cotton crop appeared today in the opinion of authorities to be off to a good start.

While experts agreed that anything could happen before the 11 cotton states came down the stretch in August with their millions of bales, torrential showers in Texas the past ten days have changed the entire picture.

Prices, quick to respond to any potential increase in the crop, have lost $1.20 a bale during the past two weeks.

E. M. Daggitt, cotton economist for the American cotton co-operative association here, reported that wires received from the Lone Star state were optimistic.

In West Texas weather stations here, reporting good soaking moisture, Daggitt said. "Two weeks ago this same area was in the grip of the drought, while the state still needs more rain to bring about a good sub-soil condition, the recent rains have been highly beneficial."

Crop experts pointed out that another favorable development was the excessive cold weather of the past winter. Disastrous in some areas, in the cotton states the low temperatures have wrought havoc to the boll weevil and other pests that try to hibernates through the winter and attack a new crop in the spring.

In Louisiana, one of the first states to plant each season, reports were highly favorable.

Chicken House Raider Is Shot; Another Arrested

One negro is in jail and another is in the P. and S. Hospital suffering shotgun wounds in the back, head, neck and shoulders as the result of being surprised in the chicken house of Will Bowlin, negro farmer, two miles south of Kerens Friday night, officers said Saturday.

Officers said that Bowlin ordered the two intruders to halt and when his command was ignored, he opened fire with a shotgun.

Addie Hooper, negro, later was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd and Constable A. H. Holloway and was placed in the county jail. A charge of chicken theft was filed against him.

Earl Morris, negro, the other person alleged to have been on the Bowlin premises, was wounded and later was brought to the hospital. His condition is not regarded as critical.

No charges will be lodged against Bowlin, officers reported.

Dr. Wm. E. Stokes Opens Offices Here

Dr. William E. Stokes has just recently moved to Corsicana from Newman, Georgia, where he has been practicing the past two years. Dr. Stokes' home was in Moultrie, Georgia. He graduated from Riverside Military academy, Gainesville, Georgia, after which he attended Presbyterian college, Clinton, South Carolina, and Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. He is a graduate of the Kirksville college of Osteopathy and Surgery, Kirksville, Missouri, where he taught clinical pathology laboratory. Besides his knowledge of this branch of medicine Dr. Stokes has had special courses in foot technique.

Texas Penitentiary Agent Here on Way Huntsville Today

Bud Russell, veteran penitentiary transfer agent of the Texas prison system, was a visitor in Corsicana Saturday afternoon en route to the central prison at Huntsville with a truck of persons convicted of felonies in North Texas points.

Agent Russell said he probably would be back in Corsicana in the near future for several prisoners in the county jail.

GENERAL FAIRFIELD NEWS; NEGRO KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF

FAIRFIELD, May 2.—(Spl.)—E. C. Evers, colored, aged 23, shot and killed his wife, Dorine, aged 21, firing two shots from a .32 calibre pistol, and then firing two shots into his own body, Monday afternoon at the home of his stepfather, Tom Jesse, three miles south of Streetman. Both died instantly.

Little progress has been made by the History Club committee in raising funds for purchasing fire fighting equipment since our last report. The work will be taken up again after the first of May, and the patriotic women pushing this project are hopeful that they will succeed but realize that they have a real job, and are going to need full co-operation on the part of every property owner to raise the necessary amount.

The best rain for months fell here at an early hour Tuesday morning, accompanied by a vivid electrical display. While not a seasonable rain it will relieve the drought conditions and start farm crops growing.

Home owners in Freestone county have received loans, for financial purposes, from the FOLC, amounting to $37,785 as of January 2nd, 1936, according to an announcement made by H. P. Drought, State director of the National Emergency Council for Texas. This total represents 19 individual loans to home owners.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT
MYSTERY

Unemployment is our biggest problem and our biggest mystery. Why, with improvement in business, there still are 10,000,000 or 12,000,000 people out of work, with the prospect that many millions will still lack work when business activity has resumed its old normal?

Machinery is usually blamed for this situation.
But it is not an adequate answer. The National Industrial Conference Board, an able and disinterested organization, after careful inquiry, concludes that machinery in the long run makes not less work for men, but more work. Why then have we all these unemployed and apparently unemployed millions?

There must be some factors that have been ignored, in accounting for the increased idleness. One of them, possibly the most important, is the change in the make-up of the family. We used to have large families, often with many small children. The wife and girls seldom worked outside of the home. Thus there was a small number of factory and office workers, in any given population, compared with the total number of persons.

Now our average family is little more than half as large. Often the wife works. Usually grown girls work, or want to work.
There are fewer children.
Thus the proportion of the average family working or wanting to work is greater than it used to be. In any given population there is now a much higher percentage of people seeking work, and counted with the unemployed when they don't get it. This percentage naturally increases in bad times, because when a family bread-winner is out of work, other members of the family join him in trying to find jobs.

By the same token, when one member gets a job, others are likely to stop seeking jobs. So strong is this tendency that one economic writer thinks if there are 10,000,000 people seeking work, and 5,000,000 find steady work, the other 5, 000,000 will disappear.

CHECK ON STOLEN
GOODS.

Another move of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice is the establishment of a lost and found department for stolen property. As announced by J.
Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau, records will be kept of all stolen goods.
There will be a minute description of each article, the type of crime represented, the name of the victim and the names of suspects. These records will be available to local police officers throughout the country along with the fingerprints and histories of criminals kept by the bureau's identification division.

America's war on crime is gaining force and effectiveness under the competent leadership of the boss
"G-man" and his assistants.
Yet it can never be entirely successful without the cooperation of the public, especially in a sterner attitude toward the minor crimes, petty graft and lax moral standards which lead

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1935, Edgar A. Guest.)

COURTESY ON DEPARTURE.

To host and hostess at the door,
Handshaking as we go,
'Tis courtesy to say once more
What they must surely know:
"Good bye! It was so good of you."

Your party was sublime!
We've both enjoyed the evening through.
We've had a glorious time!"

We stay a moment in the hall
Before we take the road
To thank our gracious friends for all

The pleasure they've bestowed,
And as we turn to go away
We hear the stair clock chime.
"Good bye! Good bye!" again we say.

"We've had a glorious time!"

So from the host that's known as Life

When I at last depart,
Forgetting all the care and strife
And every sting and smart
Let me in that last hour ere I Set out for realms sublime
Shake hands with life and say:
"Good bye!
I've had a glorious time!"

POWER FOR GOOD ROADS

When American automobile manufacturers started making more powerful engines, Europeans explained it as a natural result of bad roads. We needed great power, they said, to pull a car around through our untamed wildernesses.

Then gradually the startling truth broke over them that good roads, not bad ones, were responsible. The better our highways became, the faster people would drive, and the fast driving demanded bigger and better motors. A bad road would shake the car to pieces, but fast driving on a perfect road would shake the motor to pieces.

Then as the Europeans began improving their own highways, making them smoother and broader to match our best, with fewer obstacles to high speed, they proceeded to do the same thing. They redesigned their motors for smoothness, power and speed, with tighter and harder fittings, better lubrication, and so on.

There, as here, the mere making of better roads produces, along with various other forms of revolution, unforeseen mechanical improvements.

POISON GAS.

The words of Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, spoken at Geneva regarding the use of poison gas by the Italian army in Ethiopia, ought to be read by every literate person, and ought to be read by the literate to all who cannot read. This revival of poison gas as a war weapon, which was started by Germany in the World War and subsequently renounced by all civilized nations, is the worst feature of Italy's aggressive war. Says Eden:
"Not only the two belligerents, but nearly all the nations of the world, are parties to the anti-gas protocol of 1925. Is there one nation here, one nation anywhere on the earth's surface, which is not interested in this observance? This protocol concerns the inhabitants of every great city of the world."

"It is for them a charter against extermination.
Without it, how can we have confidence that our own folk, despite all the solemnly signed protocols, will not be burned, blinded and done to death in agony hereafter?"

Airplanes and poison gas are a combination unequalled in history for destruction and suffering in time of war. They must be ruled out.

DRIVING TO SIBERIA

The most surprising road-building scheme in modern times is now being studied by certain unrevealed financial interests in the United States. They propose to connect Edmonton, Alberta, with Siberia by means of a highway for heavy motor traffic. It would run through the Northwest Territories, Yukon and Alaska, and would finally dive through a tunnel under the Bering Straits to Siberia, eventually passing on to the great cities of the Orient.
It would cost $500,000,000 or more if carried through.
The Bering Straits tunnel would be paid for eventually from traffic tolls.

The immediate purpose of such a road would be to get

FOREIGN BROTHERS.

The final winner of a college scholarship for the best essay on how to keep the United States out of war is a Boy Scout who attended the fourth international Scout Jamboree in Hungary in 1933. His essay is his own. His peace theory is based on the experiences of that summer.

"I went to the Jamboree," he wrote, "and there I found my solution for world peace. All the boys wanted to be friends and we made new ones every day. By actually living with 30,000 foreign Scouts we learned that they thought and acted just as we did. We loved those brother Scouts as much as those in America. I am corresponding with eight Scouts in Estonia, Luxembourg, England, Austria, Persia, Syria, South Africa and Australia. After these contacts, how could we ever want to go to war against each other?"

This youngster thinks governments ought to send picked groups of youth to international gatherings "to open their eyes to the futility of war."

There is good sense in his idea. If war actually came, of course, many friends would fight on opposite sides as friends, and even brothers, have done in past wars. But there is hope that by creating in youth a better understanding of other peoples, of their current problems and needs as well as their history and culture, there may be created also the will to get along together and knowledge of how to do it.

It does look to an outsider as if Japan and Russia are going a little out of their way to defend themselves. Still we ourselves, on occasion, have gone across the Atlantic and Pacific with the same fool idea.

ing more expensive tastes.

PLAN IMPROVEMENT
ON STATE HIGHWAY
31 WEST AT ONCE

DAWSON, May 1.—Gates with which to close Highway 31 one at the Hill county line and the other near the end of the Purley concrete slab, have been erected and work of improving the 14 miles of highway is to start at once. The road is already being shaped.

The highway is scheduled to be graveled and oiled, similar to the one mile of road at the end of the Purley concrete making it an all-weather road.

Mexico in Midst of Campaign For Safe
Automobile Driving

MEXIA, May 1.—(Spl.)—Following on the heels of the "pledged driver" campaign of the Mexico
Daily News and J. K. Hughes the State Safety Department will have its No. 1, traffic lane crew here next week to test automobiles of Mexico. An advance man of the S-M, Carroll Monroe, was here arranging for the traffic lane, sponsored by the Mexico Rotary Club, also visited Groesbeck and Teague, which are to get the service also while the men are in this section.

Lanes will be laid out on busy streets. Cars will be inspected for brakes, lights, horns, windshield wipers and steering gear, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Uniformed state highway patrolmen will be here, about eight of them, together with sound truck which will do educational work.

Warn Against Sale
Of Rotten Eggs

A warning to producers and purchasers of poultry products from the Bureau of Food and Drugs of the State Health Department that the city, state and federal authorities are very active in the enforcement of the law against the buying and selling of rotten eggs has been received by local dealers.

It is urged that all eggs be candied before they are bought or sold to avoid prosecution.

The following suggestions are made to producers: Keep nests clean, gather eggs twice a day;
keep eggs protected from sun in delivering to market; keep eggs in cool, dry room or cellar; market eggs at least twice a week;
and offer in hot months; sell, sell or confine all male birds as soon as hatching season is over.

PIONEER PHYSICIAN
DIED EARLY FRIDAY
MORNING IN FROSTDR. RICE KNOX LONG LEAD-ING CITIZEN OF WESTERN SECTION OF COUNTY

FROST, May 1.—(Spl.)—Funeral services for Dr. Rice Knox, aged 82 years, pioneer physician and resident of this community, who died at 1:20 o'clock Friday morning, were held from the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock with interment in the local cemetery. He had resided here for the past 56 years and was an extensive property-owner.

Dr. Knox was the oldest physician in Navarro county. Until advancing years and ill health caused his retirement, he was active in his profession, civic and business circles in northwest Navarro county and long has been regarded as one of the most prominent leaders of the community.

Surviving are a number of nieces and nephews, including Mrs. J. M. Tullis, Corsicana; Knox
Doyle, Dallas; Irvin Westlake, Huntsville, Mo.; John Knox, Clifton Hill, Mo.; and Archie Knox, Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Fred DuBose
Contest Winner

Results of the first of nine weekly Texas history contests sponsored by the makers of Post cereal were announced Friday afternoon, and included among those securing $10 awards for entries the name of Mrs. Fred A. Du-Bose, Route 2, Corsicana. The contests are conducted in Navarro county each week in the Friday issue of the Corsicana Daily Sun.
First prize of $100 was awarded to W. H. Burch of Fort Worth; second prize of $75 was awarded to Mrs. Stewart Cooper, Colorado. Texas, third prize of $50 was awarded to Harmon Shelton of Austin. Ten awards of $10 each were made including Mrs. DuBose and forty-six winners received $5 each.

Card of Thanks.

We take this method of expressing, in a small measure, our thanks and appreciation to all who were so kind and sympathetic during the illness and passing of our husband and father. The esteem which he was held in was certainly evidenced in the large number of friends present and the many lovely flowers. For this we are very grateful and ask God's blessings on all.

LIMESTONE COUNTY
FARMERS ENLISTED
SOIL CONSERVATION

MEXIA, May 1.—(Spl.)—Work has started in Limestone county on the campaign to enlist all farmers in the new soil conservation program. It was explained at the office of T. E. Lewis, county agent at Groesbeck. One series of meetings is under way, and another scheduled.

The first group is to explain to farmers how to make out their work sheets, and commitment will go over each individual's case with him. After the work sheets are filled out, another meeting will be held when the farmers may sign their applications for participation in the program.

They are not contracts but applications for benefits under the program, and are to be paid only if they live up to their soil conservation program.

AMERICA'S PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1 NABBED BY FEDERAL AGENTS

ALVIN KARPIS ARRESTED IN NEW ORLEANS LAST NIGHT WITHOUT FIRING SHOT

ST. PAUL, May 2.—(AP)—

Alvin Karpis, the nation's No. 1 criminal who boasted he "wouldn't be taken alive" but who was "scared to death" when federal agents seized him in New Orleans, was held today in the federal building while authorities questioned him regarding three kidnappings and other crimes. J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal department of investigation who led the capture, related details of how Karpis was trapped in New Orleans yesterday and how he "turned yellow" at the last moment.

"Karpis said he'd never be taken alive," said Hoover, "but we took him without firing a shot. That marked him as a death, yellow rat. He was scared to death when we closed in on him. He shook all over—his voice, his hands and his knees."

Karpis was brought here by Hoover and eight federal agents. Karpis was taken to the federal building after a dramatic airplane trip in which several stops and wide detours were forced by severe flying weather. During the trip Karpis was chained to his seat. Other than the weather, there were no untoward incidents. The investigation department chief disclosed Karpis had resorted to plastic surgery on his face, but that despite alterations which included cuts from the lobes of ears, he was easily recognizable from his photographs.

Wanted for Three Kidnapings Hoover said Karpis was wanted for three kidnappings, the William Hamm and the Bremer kidnappings, and that of a doctor whose car was commandeered after the gangster shot his way out of a trap in Atlantic City, N. J. He is under indictment for both the Hamm and Bremer kidnappings which yielded ransom of $300,000.

Karpis also was accused of slaying a sheriff, 15 bank robberies, three or four mail holdups and coming in in the slaying of George J. Sullivan, U. S. district attorney, said he had no plans yet for arraignment of the prisoner.

Hoover left St. Paul about 12:30 p. m. (CST) on the 2-10-36, a train carrying him to Chicago. It was the same plane used to bring Karpis here from New Orleans.

ST. PAUL, May 2.—(AP)—Sullen, weary, shivering, Alvin Karpis, the outlaw, was brought back to St. Paul today to face trial on kidnapping charges.

Department of justice agents who trapped the nation's most notorious gangster in New Orleans last night returned him here in an overnight plane ride.

Escorted personally by J. Edgar Hoover, department of justice head, and a band of picked agents, Karpis was landed here at 8:47 a. m. (CST), slightly more than twelve hours after the heavily armed party flew northward out of New Orleans last night.

The decorated and thin summer apparel in a temperature just above freezing, was hustled from the big liner to a heavily armed automobile, surrounded by machine guns, and taken directly to the federal headquarters in the federal building.

Whether Karpis would be promptly arraigned on indictments charging him with the abduction of Edward G. Bremer, U. S. district judge, William Hamm, Jr., brewing head, was not immediately determined.

At Washington, the postoffice inspection service said offers will be made to try Karpis for the Garrettsville, Ohio, train robbery last November unless he is given a death sentence in an earlier trial.

If Karpis is given a long sentence or life imprisonment, the Garrettsville case will be pressed by a $2,000 reward offered by postoffice inspectors will not be available for payment unless Karpis is convicted of the Garrettsville robbery, the service said.

Hoover said Karpis was taken to the federal building after his arrest. He ignored them at the airport where the plane was backed into a national guard hangar, with the transfer from the liner to an automobile being made behind closed doors.

Making a short stop at St. Louis for refueling around midnight, the plane was tied up at Kansas City from 2 a. m. until 5:30 a. m. (CST) because of unfavorable flying weather.

During the entire trip and stops the prisoner was manacled inside the plane.

Upon arrival here his feet scarcely touched the earth as the agents hurried him from the plane to the waiting car, thence to the federal building.

Hoover, who said he planned to go by airplane to New York this afternoon, divulged some of the details of Karpis' capture. He emphasized no reward would be paid by the federal bureau of investigation, an indication no "tips" were received from persons seeking the $7,000 price offered for Karpis' arrest recently.

ing of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, six months later. Karpis lifted his hands and yielded a pistol.

Arrested with him in his motor car near a pretentious Canal street apartment was a red-haired young woman identified only as "Ruth," who had posed as his wife, and Fred Hunter, 37, suspect in the $40,000 postoffice robbery at Garrettsville, Ohio, Nov. 7, 1935.

Prisoners Shackled Quickly Swiftly the agents shackled the hands and feet of the men, and took them and the woman to the postoffice building for questioning.

Other officers were posted about the apartment where Karpis had been known as "Ed O'Hara," a mild-mannered devotee of fishing.

Karpis, who has a criminal record for 10 of his 26 years, was rushed from the postoffice to the New Orleans airport at 8:30 p. m. (central standard time) and was housed in a rented plane by about six guards.

Hoover went in and the plane took off. Federal agents declined to discuss the ultimate destination of the St. Paul kidnappings.

Victims of the St. Paul kidnappings were cheered by news of the arrest. Seven of Karpis' associates in the gang dominated by the late Kate (Ma) Barker are dead and the others are all imprisoned.

"Congratulations again to the department of justice," said Hamm, "for a mighty tough task so nobly done."

Brewer termed it "a further tribute" to the department. Karpis (O'Hara) was taken after being brought to trial on the kidnapping charges immediately, however, was a question. Hoover said he was implicated with Hunter in the Garrettsville postoffice robbery.

Hoover's announcement: "The simple statement I've got something interesting to tell you" was Hoover's greeting to newsmen in New Orleans an hour after the capture.

"We've captured Alvin Karpis, general public enemy No. 1," as public enemy No. 1. Hoover gave the names of the other taken, then said: "Karpis never had a chance. There were too many guns on him."

They were in an apartment and were leaving the house to enter an automobile when the agents surrounded them.

"The agents called upon them to surrender and they were taken to the federal building," said Karpis was shackled hand and foot and the shackles themselves were chained together, before he was placed aboard the plane.

He had been living in the apartment for some time. Karpis was posed as his wife. Hunter visited them nightly.

His arrest followed two months of concentrated vigilance in New Orleans, Hoover said.

Karpis had been in and out of New Orleans for the past two months and have been trailing him," he explained.

The nationwide hunt for Karpis began with the finding of the slaying of a gasoline can and a flashlight dropped by the Bremer kidnap mob.

Long Criminal Record. Earlier crimes attributed to him and his gang did not come under the department's jurisdiction. The robberies and kidnappings of this group of hoodlums in three years caused the deaths of at least five persons, four of them policemen, and about $500,000 cash loss.

Sigger "jobs" included: The $200,000 robbery of the Third Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis, Dec. 16, 1932, in which three were slain.

$50,000 payroll robbery at South St. Paul, 10, 1933, in which one policeman was killed and another wounded.

The Sept. 22, 1933, Federal Reserve Bank mail robbery in Chicago which resulted in the death of a policeman.

The $32,000 holdup of the First National Bank of Brainerd, Minn., in which one policeman was killed and another wounded.

The $50,000 robbery of the National Bank and Trust Co., of Sioux Falls, S. D.

The $200,000 kidnapping, in which Karpis was held for $100,000 ransom.

Karpis' crime career began when he was only 16 years old, a delinquent youngster arrested at Toledo, Ohio, for stealing automobile tires.

Freed on Parole. After three years in the Kansas reformatory at Hutchinson he escaped by sawing his way through the bars. He remained at large a year and was re-arrested and sent to the Lansing, Kas., state prison. He was freed under parole after another year of imprisonment.

A month later, in 1931, he visited the "crime school" of Kate (Ma) Barker in Tulsa, Okla., and rejoined Freddie Barker, whom he had met in Lansing prison. For a year or more they operated through the oil-well state, and adding to their mob.

Karpis was arrested for a Henryetta, Okla., jewel robbery and sentenced to prison, but paroled after he had served three months in jail at Okmulgee. Barker had eluded.

partment, relieved of the Karpis search, sought Campbell today in an effort to make the cleanup complete.

Some of such desperadoes as John Hamilton, Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd and "Baby Face" Nelson in department of justice books, Karpis failed to carry out a boast his former wife, Dorothy Shymann, had made alive.

"I'll never be taken alive," Karpis said in four years, Miss Slayman at Tulsa, Okla., won a divorce last Nov. 22 on charges of neglect and cruelty.

Always thought Freddie Barker was bad influence on Alvin," she said.

Has Law-Abiding Parents. To the law-abiding parents of Karpis, Mr. and Mrs. John Karpavicz, Chicago, the arrest was climax of criminal career which drew him a reformatory sentence for petty thievery at the age of 16.

"Why tell me about it?" demanded Karpavicz, an apartment house janitor.

Hunter and the mystery girl were questioned throughout the night by David McGee, head of the New Orleans bureau, and other federal agents.

"She's a tough baby," observed McGee, "and she won't talk."

The girl presented a trim, slight figure in a becoming white hat, white shoes and white checked dress. She appeared to be in her early twenties.

Agents scoffed at a question that she might have provided the "tip off" as did the recently departed Allen, Anna Sage, the "Coke" man, and the John Dillinger case.

Mrs. J. E. Meyer, owner of the apartment building, said Karpis and "Ruth" engaged quarters about three weeks ago, paying a monthly rent in advance.

"He was such a nice, quiet little man," she said.

Karpis Arrived in St. Paul Saturday ST. PAUL, May 2.—(AP)—Alvin Karpis, the nation's public enemy No. 1, who was captured last night in New Orleans, arrived at the municipal airport at 8:50 a. m. (Central Standard time) today and was immediately whisked away by federal agents to the department of justice headquarters in the federal building.

The plane which brought Karpis here from the Louisiana city, landed at the airport at 8:50 a. m. The plane was escorted by a band of federal agents, who kidnapped William A. Hamm, Jr., St. Paul brewer, for $100,000 ransom June 15, 1933, and then abducted Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker for $200,000, in the same plane.

Weather conditions it was believed, forced the plane off the direct route from New Orleans to St. Paul via Chicago, and the trip was by way of Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City. At St. Paul, the plane stopped more than three hours before taking off at 5:30 a. m. (CST) on the final leg of the trip here.

At the Kansas City airport an attendant said Karpis was chained to his seat and was not permitted to leave the plane during the long stop.

Twenty St. Paul federal agents had awaited the arrival of Karpis. At the airport, the plane was guarded by the St. Paul airport police.

It was presumed Karpis would be rushed to the Ramsey county jail in St. Paul, where six others with whom he was indicted only a few days ago for the Hamm kidnapping, are held.

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the department of justice bureau of investigation, personally supervised handling of the notorious outlaw.

The big liner was landed near the 109th Aero Squadron hangar (national guard) and backed into a hangar, heavily guarded by federal agents.

The distance from the airport to the Ramsey county jail where Karpis will be confined is about a mile and a half. The route was patrolled by police squad cars and deputy sheriffs.

Search of Apartment Has Yielded "Plenty" ST. PAUL, May 2.—(AP)—Federal bureau of investigation agents today searched the apartment where Karpis and his companions here last night said today that a search of the Karpis apartment where he resided yielded "plenty" of evidence.

"We've found plenty," David W. Magee, head of the local federal bureau declared as his men continued to grill "Ruth," the pretty girl in white who lived with Karpis and his wife and Fred Hunter, who is wanted for a $40,000 mail robbery in Garrettsville, Ohio.

Magee refused to go into any details on what evidence had been found in the apartment, the details of "Ruth," or details of the surprise springing of the trap in which nearly a score of agents led by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the bureau in Washington, pounded upon Karpis, disarmed and captured him without a fight and seized Hunter and the girl.

Ruth's identity unknown. Magee said he did not know the identity of Ruth but that her fingerprints were being checked in Washington in an effort to learn whether she was wanted by the government.

Throughout the night the girl, in her early twenties, was grilled along with Hunter in the offices of the bureau of investigation in the third floor of the federal building while Karpis was flown by fast plane to St. Paul, charged of a group of federal agents.

Ruth and Hunter were furnished with cots, bedding and meals in the apartment. Magee said he did not make their appearance outside of the building since they were taken in early last night after the raid on the Canal street apartment house.

All night long the lights burned and officers with machine guns and pistols guarded the prisoners. They said the prisoners refused to talk and that Ruth refused to identify herself.

ANNUAL HI-Y SWEETHEARTS' BANQUET FRIDAY EVENING IS HIGH SCHOOL SOCIAL CLIMAX

By JOHN SAN HASLAM

The social activities of the Corsicana High school for the year were brought to a successful close Friday night when the 18th annual Hi-Y Sweethearts' Banquet was held in the religious education building of the First Methodist church. Otis L. Hilliard, Denison, former high school teacher and the chief sponsor here, was the principal speaker.

Sidney Gottlieb was toastmaster. The invocation was pronounced by Reynaud Stroube, after which the dinner, prepared and served by the Missionary Circles of Mrs. A. Allison and Mrs. Fred Young, was partaken. The menu consisted of tomato juice cocktail, creamed chicken on toast, potatoes with parsley butter, stuffed celery, peas, fruit salad, buttered rolls, ice cream and cake and iced tea.

The banquet room and tables were decorated in keeping with Texas hundredth birthday. Centering the speakers' table was a huge bouquet of bluebonnets, Indian paintbrush and blue and pink larkspur, and along it were groups of "Coke" and "Ruth" which had been served. Behind the table was a replica of the Alamo, in front of another group of larger flags, and at one side was a replica of Sam Houston's original log law office. Each table was decorated with Texas flowers.

Introduction Ceremony. Toastmaster Gottlieb introduced Bruce Hoffman, speaker, and Jack Hornbeak, the president, who made a few remarks. He then had each club member or visitor introduce his guest.

The welcome to the guests was extended by Tracy Smith and the response was given in a clever musical reading by Miss Mary Cartwright. She read an appropriate address on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the statehood of Texas, with Randolph Mitchell playing the accompaniment.

Mrs. R. N. Elliott, popular high school faculty member, was presented and the speaker, Hoffman, now as in 1836 Texas and the world needs progressive young leadership, and the cultivation of the proper viewpoint towards life and the future of the state.

"If you are prepared for it, an opportunity of some kind will come along to reward you for your work," the speaker said. After these remarks by Toastmaster Gottlieb, the benediction was pronounced by David McElwraith.

Officials of the club are Bruce Hoffman, president; Jack Hornbeak, president; Frank Keathley, vice president; Ben Delahay, secretary; William McPherson, treasurer, and Billy Patrick, reporter.

FINE IS PLASTERED ON CONGRESSMAN ON TWO COURT CHARGES

ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 1.—(AP)—Falling to appear in court, Rep. Marlon Zioncheck of Washington state was fined a total of $66 for reckless driving, speeding and disorderly conduct today and a $200 bond was forfeited.

James R. Duncan added that if the attorney member ever was seen in Alexandria again he would be arrested. Zioncheck was believed to be speeding today toward a Florida honeymoon.

The representative's attorney, Maurice Rosenberg, member of the Virginia legislature, pleaded in vain that Zioncheck's case be postponed until next Friday.

"No," ruled the judge. "We cannot make any exception because he is a member of congress. I am going to hear this case in his absence."

Policeman George Ellmore then told how he arrested the representative yesterday as he traveled to Chicago in Alexandria with his bride of three days.

"He was going 60 miles an hour," Ellmore said. "When I finally stopped him. He saw me following him and later told me he was trying to get away from me."

Ellmore said that when the congressman finally stopped the big roadster he said: "When are you damn cops going to leave me alone?"

"Even after that," continued the policeman, "he would go right on at every intersection, throw on his brakes and make the tires cry."

Rosenberg told the judge that he had no opportunity to talk to Zioncheck about the case. The fines were divided as follows: Reckless driving $50 and $3 costs.

Disorderly conduct $10 and $3 costs. Bondsman Louis Weinstein said he would try immediately to locate the congressman and save the $200 bond is possible.

Two Prisoners Escape Karnes County Jail

KENEDY, May 2.—(AP)—Two prisoners accused of highway robbery here, James Serimengua and Frank Celli, Jr., broke out of the Karnes County jail early today.

Officers said the youthful fugitives made a piece of iron bed railing to pry in their sheet-iron cell wall and get into the "run-around." They broke a window bar, previously weakened by sawing in another attempt at escape, and descended to the ground on a blanket. They were in cells on the second floor.

The break was not discovered until daylight and officers were unable to locate them immediately. They immediately fled.

Serimengua and Celli were arrested about 20 miles south of Kennedy, Bee county, on Feb. 11, after exchanging shots with officers who had trailed them after two truck hold-ups in the northern part of Karnes county. They were held on three charges of robbery with firearms in Bee county, as well as charges of burglary and theft against them in Bexar county.

HOFFMAN DETECTIVE CLAIMED ENGINEERED WENDEL KIDNAPING

MAN INDICTED IN CASE CON-FESSES, IMPLICATING
ELLIS H. PARKER

BROOKLYN, May 2.—(AP)—District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan, apparently pleased with his progress in the Paul H. Wendel kidnaping case, said today he expects "to tie up with the case a very important gentleman in New Jersey."

"And I don't mean Governor Harold G. Hoffman," he added. "The man, he indicated, might be Ellis H. Parker, St. Burlington county, N. J., detective chief, whose son, Ellis H. Parker, Jr., is one of five persons indicted for the kidnaping."

"We have evidence," Geoghan said, "that Parker, Sr., was here in New York during the illegal imprisonment of Wendel."

The district attorney said he would ask the grand jury to indict an accessory after the fact, on which St. Marcus, Trenton, N. J., cigar store owner, is being held, be dismissed. He said John J. Keady, an attorney in Newark, had assured him Marcus would be available whenever needed.

Marcus was described by Geoghan as "more or less of a messenger boy" who delivered $150 to a woman in New York City, where he was an accessory after the fact, on which St. Marcus, Trenton, N. J., cigar store owner, is being held, be dismissed. He said John J. Keady, an attorney in Newark, had assured him Marcus would be available whenever needed.

Geoghan said, "and from the story I got from Murray Bleefeld, I think we are going to tie up with the case a very important gentleman in New Jersey."

Bleefeld, also one of the five under indictment, and Marcus were paraded in the Manhattan police headquarters lineup today and the return of Brookline.

Bleefeld Makes Statement. Assistant District Attorney Francis A. Madden said Bleefeld had made a statement, involving the older Parker in the kidnaping.

"We still have to get another man in New Jersey to help us," Geoghan said. "But I have been assured he will be available."

Geoghan said seven persons were involved in the case besides the five indicted. Bleefeld has a record of several arrests in New Jersey. He was once convicted of any crime, however.

Wendel's kidnaping and signing of several "confessions" to the Lindbergh baby abduction—confessions which were repudiated—delayed the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for three days.

Madden said Bleefeld told of meeting the older Parker in connection with efforts to have a confession signed reduced for his brother, Jeff, convicted of possessing explosives.

The prisoner was quoted as telling of a visit in which he talked with Parker at his Mt. Pleasant office, "asking what chance my brother had of getting out before the time was up."

Madden continued to quote Bleefeld. During the course of that conversation Mr. Parker said to me, "I have been commissioned by Governor (Harold G.) Hoffman to make a complete investigation of the Lindbergh kidnaping case. I have complete charge of the case. I have a man named Wendel under suspicion for the past four years and I'm very anxious to get his confession."

"At that time Mr. Parker outlined the plan he was going to use to get a confession but to me it seemed to be a legal one. The whole thing was Parker's scheme."

Madden said he would take Bleefeld before the grand jury today.

His intricate story has blown the middle of his involved disclosure the lid off the whole case."

THREE TEXAS SCHOOL BOYS ON LIST HERO AWARDS THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Three Texas school boys and four their residents today were recognized for heroism and awarded bronze medals by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

Lawrence L. Tarrillion, 14, San Antonio school boy, won recognition for his bravery in saving Winston D. Byrom, 11, from drowning in the San Antonio river Jan. 30, last. The Byrom boy plunged into the stream on his bicycle.

Harold R. McCaskill, 14-year-old Condon school boy, saved Joseph D. Jowers, 69, from a burning "cave" after the aged nurseryman had leaped from the second floor. The lad managed to pull Jowers to safety.

Margaret L. Prince of Point (Rains county) was recognized for her efforts to save Lee Woodson, 18, from drowning near her home. Miss Prince, a poor swimmer, struggled in the water with the youth until William R. Rabb, Point school boy, who was awarded a medal, dived in and helped hold Woodson above the water while another youth obtained lumber on which the trio reached shore.

Jesuso C. Hernandez, 21, a laborer won recognition for saving Charleen Welch, 8, at San Benito after her parents' automobile plunged from a bridge into an irrigation ditch standing 11 feet in water. The parents thanked to free themselves and swim to safety but the child was trapped.

German Military Plane Crashes; Eleven Killed

NEU-ULM, Bavaria, Germany, May 1.—(AP)—A German military plane crashed during night maneuvers, it was learned today, killing 11 persons instantly, including the members of the crew.

The plane was one of a squadron soaring over the district along the Bavarian and Wurttemberg province borders, where combined air protection maneuvers for the population and for anti-aircraft detachments were held the night of April 28.

The soldiers flared plunged to death early in the morning of April 29, it was learned, but officials soon declined to disclose details of the crash and civilians withheld strictly further news of the accident.

THREE KILLED WHEN OKLAHOMA TWISTER STRUCK FARM HOMES

ANDARCO, Okla., May 2.—(AP)—Two sections of western Oklahoma counted four dead, 16 injured, and thousands of dollars of property damage today from windstorms and flood rains.

Three persons were killed last night when a twister struck a group of farm homes in the vicinity of Albert, near here, 12 hours after a Chicago engineer died in a crash at Elk City, where the $350,000 city reservoir dam was broken.

The three who died in demolished homes last night were Mrs. Alice Lagron, 68; Harold Trull, 21, a body of a boy, one year old. Eleven persons were injured. Mrs. Virgil Lane, mother of the baby killed, was found severely hurt a quarter of a mile from her wrecked home.

The body of George Gates, 40, Chicago engineer, was found yesterday four miles from the bridge approach from which the water swept his car. He was last seen signalling to rescuers with a flashlight.

Elk City faced a drinking water shortage as the broken dam left the reservoir virtually empty and seven emergency water wells were choked with mud. State and federal agencies rushed rehabilitation work and feared against an outbreak of disease.

Damage to the east side of Elk City was estimated at $100,000 by city officials.

Heavy rains also brought long-needed water to the north central Oklahoma wheat section last night, and at the same time a severe dust storm moved over western parts of the state.

SOIL CONSERVATION
RATES, CONDITIONS
OFFICIALLY SET

RATES OF PAYMENT RANGE FROM ONE TO TWO DOL-LARS PER ACRE

COLLEGE STATION, May 4.—(Sp.)—Soil building practices, rates and conditions of payments have been officially stamped by the soil conservation administrator in Washington, D. C., A. L. Smith, state agent assigned to conservation work in Texas, announced this week.

Soil building practices have been divided into three parts: Seedings, crops plowed under for green manure, and establishment of pastures, forests and terraces.

Payments for soil building practices which will be made to the producer who incurs the expense of the soil building practice consist first of seeding alfalfa, sorghum, and kudzu—rate of payment from the government will be $2 per acre when seeded on cropland between January 1, 1936, and October 31, 1936; seeding red clover, mammoth clover, sweet clover, and annual lespedeza—rate $1.50 per acre; seeding alfalfa, white, blue, and crimson clover, Austrian winter peas, vetch and other locally adapted legumes—rate $1 per acre.

Under the second part of soil building practices come crops plowed under for green manure. The crops and rates are: Soybeans, velvet beans, cowpeas, cotton, sorghum, and other locally adapted summer legumes, velvet legumes—rate $1.50 per acre if grown on cropland in 1936 and vines or stalks left on land and seed not harvested for oil mill crushing, or $2 per acre if plowed under green; crimson clover, bur clover, Austrian winter peas, vetch and other locally adapted winter legumes—rate $1.50 per acre when turned under; rye, oats, barley, Italian rye grass, wheat, or mixtures of these—rate $1 per acre when turned under as green manure after a reasonable growth, provided that such crops have not gone to the dough stage.

Any sorghum, Sudan grass, or millet seeded, sold or broadcast, by Texas farmers will bring them a rate of $1 per acre when seeded between January 1 and July 31, 1936, and the crop left on the land or plowed under.

One other group of soil building practices pertains to the establishment of pastures or perennial grasses or grass and legume mixtures and will pay a rate of $2 per acre.

The planting of forest trees will pay a rate of $5 per acre if planted on cropland or pasture land between September 1, 1935, and October 31, 1936.

The case of terracing, the government will pay the farmer 40 cents per hundred feet of completed terrace not to exceed $2 per acre. The terraces must be constructed according to methods recommended by the state conservation board and the Texas extension service. Proof must be shown to the county soil conservation and allotment board that the terraces have been kept up as specified in the application for a grant.

May 15 has been set as the final date for filing all work sheets on application for co-operating in the soil conservation program, it was announced by A. L. Smith, state agent assigned to conservation work in Texas.

CHAMPION COWBOY OF ENGLAND WITH COWBOY BAND

Cowboy, explorer, rodeo performer, musician, star of the legitimate stage, Johnny Regan, England's champion cowboy, is a very exclusive feature of the world famous Cowboy Band which will appear in concert in Corsicana on Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock under the auspices of the Lions Club in the Senior high school auditorium.

Regan is the world's champion bull whip artist and an artist with the ropes and smaller whips. Wherever he has performed, audiences have been amazed with the skill shown by England's ambassador of mirth and good will.

In every performance given by the Cowboy Band, Regan has scored tremendous successes with his combination of rope artistry and comedy.

In addition to his work on the stage, Regan produces each performance of the Cowboys and serves as drum major in parades.

A seasoned stage performer and showman, he is indeed the star of the Cowboy Band Revue.

U. S. GOVERNMENT WILL AID IN TEXAS
PENSION COSTS

AUSTIN, May 4.—(Sp.)—A statement this week by the director of the Old Age Assistance Commission revealed a fact that state taxpayers and old folks in the Texas plan for helping the needy aged.

"A large part, if not all, of the cost of administering the Old Age Pension Law in Texas will be paid by a large part of their operation costs out of the federal allotment for administrative expense thereby leaving most of the state funds to be spent for old age assistance."

"After determining the amount to be granted a state for the payment of old age assistance, the federal government adds 5 per cent of this amount to the check for administrative expenses in that particular state," Mr. Carpenter explained. "The entire federal expense allotment may be spent before any state funds are spent for this purpose."

Present estimates indicate that this amount will be sufficient to pay a large part, if not all, of

MANY THOUSANDS
TEXAS YOUTHS IN
NYA ENROLLMENT

AUSTIN, May 4.—(Sp.)—Thirty-three thousand Texas youths have availed themselves of the opportunities offered by the National Youth Administration since it went into operation in September, 1935. Lyndon B. Johnson, state director of the youth administration announced today.

A summary of major Texas activities reveals that the student aid program leads with 18,935 high school and college students holding part time jobs. Of this number, 11,080 were employed in high schools and 5,095 in colleges. High school student jobs pay $8 per month and college students are paid an average of $15 per month.

Under the works projects program, 12,011 Texas out-of-school youths—7,414 boys and 4,597 girls—have part-time jobs. NYA projects are sponsored locally and adapted to the needs of individual communities.

The Texas NYA has 20 freshmen college centers in operation with a total enrollment of approximately 900 students and with 24 teachers employed. The centers offer college work of the first year level to students unable to enroll in regular colleges and universities.

Under the vocational guidance and job training program of the NYA, a junior employment service has been established at Fort Worth. In 60 days of operation, 2,119 boys and 1,155 girls have been interviewed. A total of 136 firms have been visited and 22 youths have been placed in marginal jobs in private industry.

Of the 160 young women who attended NYA camps, 35 per cent obtained employment at the end of the camp period.

SOIL CONSERVATION
AGREEMENTS MAY BE COMPLETED AT C. C.

Navarro county producers who have not yet signed their agreements for invoking the benefits of the new soil conservation program may complete their papers at the office of County Agent C. C. Morris in the Chamber of Commerce building according to an announcement made Monday. All contracts must be completed by May 15 if producers are to be eligible this year.

The county agent announced that the sign-up campaign in Navarro county was more than 90 per cent completed but the exact amount of work remaining to be done could not be determined until all community committeemen had made their final reports.

During the latter part of last week, the various committeemen were stationed at strategic points all over the county to expedite the signing of the agreements, but all remaining contracts will have to be completed at the Corsicana office.

Texas Centennial
Tourists in Parade
In Chicago Monday

CHICAGO, May 4.—(P)—Gov. James V. Allred of Texas and a delegation of public officials and newspaper editors of that state planned a downtown parade today as the feature of their good will tour of Chicago on behalf of the Texas Centennial exposition.

On the schedule also were visits to the board of trade and the stockyards. They were accompanied by the University of Texas band.

The Texans, who arrived yesterday, traveled on a special train. They will start home tomorrow via St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.

Corporation Court.
Ten charges of intoxication, four of disturbing the peace, one of double parking, two of vagrancy, one of assault, and two of disturbing the peace and carrying a pistol brought offenders before Judge A. H. Willie in Corsicana Corporation court Monday morning in one of the heaviest dockets in several weeks, and quite a contrast to the last Monday session when no cases awaited the judge's action.

WHEN YOU know YOU PAID
A BILL... CAN YOU
PROVE IT?

You may distinctly remember paying a bill—but if its sender says you didn't, how are you to protect yourself from paying twice? The answer is simple—a checking account here removes any such danger. Besides being legal evidences of payment, cancelled checks relieve you of the necessity of asking for—and filing—receipted bills.

Many men and women, particular in their financial habits, have checking accounts here for this safety—as well as for the saving of time and trouble.

HOW TO OPEN A
Checking Account

The procedure of opening a checking account here is as simple as it is short.

Bring in the money you want to open the account with: make yourself known to an officer—he will help you fill out a signature form, for your own protection and for the bank's records. Then, you make out a deposit slip, showing the amount of money you are depositing.

You will receive both a check book and a pass book. That completes the transaction. If your initial deposit is made in cash, you can begin drawing against it whenever you wish. A check on another bank, however, takes a short time to clear.

When you come in, any of our officers will be glad to assist you and inform you of the regulations concerning checking accounts.

ADDIS ABABA

As organized defense in Ethiopia, the Italian army, which was in Rome announced that the citizens of Italy soon would be called together in an assembly to celebrate the victory in East Africa.

The King of Kings sailed aboard H. M. S. Enterprise for the British mandated territory, from Djibouti, French Somaliland, where he took refuge in his flight from his capital city.

Armed only with nine rifles, two shotguns and ten revolvers, American Minister Cornelius Van H. Engert advised the state department in Washington that he was in the American legation fought off a charge by bandits.

After a brisk exchange of shots, the bandits were driven off. Engert, however, was wounded.

Engert made an urgent appeal to the state department in Washington for aid in his situation.

Surprise Attack.

In a message filed at 10 a. m., Engert informed the state department that he had been surprised by a band of 200 to 300 men, who had taken him and his staff by surprise.

Engert and his staff were taken to a safe place, but the bandits were not taken to the compound from behind trees and bushes.

Bullets struck dangerously close to Mrs. Engert, who had elected to stay with her husband, and John Spencer, of Grinnell, Iowa, who was with the Ethiopian government.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the Italian army in East Africa, advised the state department that he had received reports that the Italian troops, acting as "advance point" for the main Italian body, were virtually at Addis Ababa.

His daily communique said the Italian troops had passed a point some 50 miles from the city which had been reduced to a shambles by mobs carrying torch and rifle.

The Italian advance is preceded by native fanatics.

Italians renewed their assertions that the Ethiopian empire had crumbled and that Italian domination must be recognized by the world.

Southern Advance Continues.

In the south, Badoglio advised the state department that his troops had reached a point 80 kilometers (50 miles) beyond Dargah Bur and have beaten and dispersed the warriors of Omani Samantar x x x the Ogaden population, who were fighting the Italian army.

Though the American legation was attacked, a dispatch under the combined signatures of American correspondents in the city, who had been in the whole town, had diminished as desperadoes entered the city from the surrounding hills and endangered the lives of both citizens and foreigners.

It was estimated 2,000 refugees of 23 nationalities were being sheltered in the British legation.

A rescue party from the legation found five persons dead in the Turkish legation from which defenders had fled after an attack by rioters armed with rifles and machine guns.

At least one Italian was killed in Addis Ababa in the last 48 hours.

Among them was one American—Mrs. A. R. Stadin of Loma Linda, Calif., an American medical missionary who was struck by a stray bullet as she slept.

Major Blow to League.

In Geneva, diplomats regarded the course of the Ethiopian war as the course of the League of Nations as at present constituted.

The questions incident to the Italian victory were numerous but unanswered. A reframing of the League of Nations was considered likely. Inevitably, in the opinion of official Geneva, peace in Africa dictated on terms laid down by Premier Mussolini.

Whether league members would consent to the use of military measures in the future to stop aggressions was a question which might be considered when the league council meets May 11.

At Djibouti, speculation continued regarding the emperor's return.

The fugitive ruler was represented as having little hope of returning to his capital.

He and his family were guests in the palace of the French governor-general pending their departure for Haifa.

The emperor's son, Crown Prince Asfa Wosan, in Addis Ababa to await the arrival of the Italians, and rumors circulated that the emperor would abdicate in favor of Asfa Wosan the latter becoming emperor under Italian domination.

MAY DAY OBSERVED BY MILITARY SHOW IN MOSCOW FRIDAY

INTERNATIONAL HOLIDAY FOR LABOR BRINGS PARADES IN MANY COUNTRIES

By The Associated Press.

The tramping of tens of thousands of soldiers in Moscow's Red Square, a plea for peace by Adolf Hitler, and a long communist-socialist parade in New York were highlights today of the observance of May Day, labor's international holiday.

Workers paraded in many countries, and in several European states soldiers marched.

In a demonstration, Soviet Russia's military power, tanks and armored cars rolled past Lenin's tomb. A fleet of 750 war planes dived over columns of troops.

Police estimated 300,000 persons would march in the New York parade, where for the first time communists and left-wing socialists joined forces.

Germany's May Day was a "joy day" of thanks to Hitler, who told a youth rally, "We cannot use a generation of mama's boys."

Later, speaking in Berlin to thousands of May Day marchers, Hitler stressed his love of peace.

"In hatred-ridden Europe, we want to preserve peace," he said.

"To the little politicians abroad who do not understand us I would say: 'Leave us alone to work out our own problems and you get on with your own.'"

He said that the workers took place in the industrial cities of France, Hyde Park, London, was a rallying point for huge assemblies.

Thousands of Red banners waved in Madrid's May Day parade, but a holiday spirit prevailed as 60,000 celebrants marched.

Austria heard an announcement by Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg that 15,000 youths of the class of 1935 would be called for compulsory federal service, partly of civil and partly of military character—in October.

Filipino workers paraded peacefully in Manila, under the watchful eyes of police and constabulary men equipped with guns and gas bombs.

Three Mexican workers' organizations launched separate observances in Mexico City, where heavily reinforced guards were on duty.

St. Louis prepared for its first United May Day parade since the world war.

A blazing cross with a placard lettered "we will not tolerate communism" (Signed) Ku Klux Klan was found by police in a Cleveland suburb. Cleveland communists planned a rally on the public square.

RANGER ANNOUNCES ACCUSED WOMAN HAS MADE STATEMENT

MRS. REABLE CHILDS REPORTED TO HAVE TOLD OF PLOT MURDER HUSBAND

BEAUMONT, May 1.—(P)—Ranger Dan Hines announced today that Mrs. Reable Childs had made a detailed statement telling how she and her husband, George Childs, were involved in a plot to murder her lover for the last two years, had plotted and carried out the slaying of her crippled husband, Morrie Childs.

Murder charges were filed against Mrs. Childs and George Childs after Shelby county officers and rangers investigated the shooting of Childs, wealthy property owner and former county treasurer, as he stood in his bathroom at Centerville on the night of April 23 brushing his teeth.

Officers said the small calibre bullet which struck him behind the ear was fired at close range, as powder burns were found on the window screen.

Ranger Hines, who brought Mrs. Childs here from San Augustine, said she appeared "smiling and cheerful" after making a full statement to him and District Attorney Wardlaw W. Lane in which she corroborated a 36-page statement previously by Bramlett.

The ranger said that, until yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Childs had claimed she knew nothing about the shooting, then she suddenly said she would make a statement. Hines called Lane from Centerville and they questioned the attractive 25-year-old woman until 2:30 a. m. today.

Bramlett also had been transferred to jail here, occupying a cell on the floor above Mrs. Childs. The former civilian conservation corps worker spent this morning writing a letter to his 60-year-old father at Jefferson.

Experts Same Punishment.

The statement attributed to Mrs. Childs said she was "as much to blame as Bramlett for whatever happened and expected to take the same punishment he got."

An unhappy married life, extending over a six-year period during which she had tried to leave her husband, was described in the statement. She was quoted as saying Childs, practically an invalid from infantile paralysis, had vowed she would "live with any other man" and that she would "follow her to the end of the world."

Concerning the actual shooting, she said, according to Hines and other authorities, that no plans for the slaying had been arranged but that when Bramlett left her the Monday before the shooting, he had said "When I come back I will come prepared."

The night of the shooting, according to the statement, she said she heard a commotion in the kitchen of their home and became frightened, calling a neighbor, Aaron Baldwin. The statement said Baldwin went into the kitchen and the two men began to fight.

"He gasped just once after I went in," she quoted Baldwin as saying.

ZIONCHECK IS BELIEVED HEADED TOWARD HONEYMOON IN FLORIDA AFTER ANOTHER BRUSH WITH LAW

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(P)—Rep. Marion Zioncheck of Washington was believed today to be streaking toward Florida honeymoon, leaving behind him the new charges of speeding and three pet turtles.

Zioncheck, with his stenographer-bridge of three days, set out yesterday with his 12-cylinder roadster. But he had hardly left Washington when he zoomed straight into a new batch of trouble.

A traffic policeman paced him for miles on the Mount Vernon Memorial highway leading into nearby Alexandria, Virginia. Finally, at Hunting Creek—George Washington's favorite fishing spot—the policeman flagged Zioncheck.

He accused the representative of going 62 miles an hour. The answer, the policeman said, was a lot of "cuss" words. So Zioncheck was taken to the Alexandria police station accused of speeding and disorderly conduct.

The congressman escaped jail when a professional bondsman put up $200. Whether the bond would be forfeited if he failed to appear in court today was a moot question. Some court attaches believed it might, but Zioncheck's lawyer planned to appear for him and waive preliminary hearing.

A few hours after the incident one of Zioncheck's friends and neighbors found a note under his door, presumably written by the representative.

"Congressman Marion A. Zioncheck of Washington and his bride the former Ruby Louise Nix," it said, "took off for Florida this afternoon. Zioncheck was dressed in a natty brown sport suit and Mrs. Zioncheck in a white ensemble."

Reading further the friend learned that the bride had suggested the honeymoon be spent in Miami but the bridegroom countered with Tampa.

"Zioncheck said Tampa," the note continued, "because of its excellent golfing facilities and his desire to show the natives some real golf."

In conclusion the note stated that the congressman's three pet turtles (Zioncheck trained) had been entrusted to a friend.

GAINESVILLE COMMUNITY CIRCUS GETS VICE PRESIDENT AND HOUSE SPEAKER AS ITS RINGMASTERS

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(P)—The Gainesville (Texas) community circus had two new ringmasters today—Vice President Garner and Speaker Byrnes.

Organized six years ago on a non-profit basis, the circus is the largest of its kind in the United States. It has a troupe of 150 performers are home town folks and all amateurs.

"This is the first time that we have had an announcement by city limits for talent," explained J. Leonard, newspaper publisher and president of the Gainesville chamber of Commerce, in announcing the selection of the two honorees.

"But in doing it I think we've got two of the finest whipcrackers in the world," he added.

Leonard said organizers of the community circus got the idea originally from "little theatre" movements.

"Morton Smith, a newspaperman, began on the theory that if eastern cities could have successful acting groups producing drama and comedy, then we could start a circus out there in the west," he said.

There was an immediate turnout of would-be circus performers. None of the organizers was a professional or had ever been connected with the big top. Some of them had never even seen a circus.

"We had the bareback riders," Leonard continued, "and the next thing to get was horses. We got one from a grocery store, another from a hardware store and some others off farms. Pretty soon they were real tankbark actors."

Included in the community circus personnel are:

A retired county judge, three physicians, lawyers, business men, housewives, teachers and students, delivery boys and stenographers and an undertaker.

The circus is now a three-ring presentation.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES IN THREE STATES NEXT WEEK NOW HOLDING POLITICAL ATTENTION

By LEONARD B. SHUBERT Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(P)—A week of intense campaign and primary activity behind, observers gave attention today to the coming presidential balloting in California, South Dakota and Maryland.

California and South Dakota will hold presidential primaries on Tuesday, while Marylanders vote on Monday. What effect the results will have on the June conventions and the big showdown in November was a question intriguing political forecasters.

Another development attracting interest was an announcement that Senator Vandenberg of Michigan had authorized the presentation of his name to the Republican national convention.

Howard C. Lawrence, chairman of the Michigan state committee, said Vandenberg had invited Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald to make the nominating speech.

Fitzgerald said, however, that the senator intended to continue as "an unannounced candidate for the nomination."

The Michigan Republican convention already has laid plans to place Vandenberg's name before the national convention. At first the state convention had prepared to hold its delegates to back Vandenberg as long as his nomination was a possibility. However, Vandenberg himself requested that the delegates be authorized to use their own judgment after presenting his name. The delegates were so empowered.

Former Senator Moses of New Hampshire last night said Colonel Frank Knox of Illinois so far "has 180 delegates who have been elected to the Cleveland convention for no other purpose" than to vote for him.

This was the largest delegate claim to date, made by the campaign to nominate Governor Landon of Kansas holding off from making claims on the big body of uncommitted delegates.

NEWSPAPER SURVEY INDICATES UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES OF SOME SOURCES ARE ENTIRELY TOO HIGH

NEW YORK, May 2.—(P)—The New York Sun estimated today in a news story that the total unemployment in all United States industries, trades, mining and transportation was 12,184,000. The paper's survey said covered 58.7 per cent of all fields of employment—amounted to 3,044,300 persons.

The paper's survey of 3,000 companies did not include such categories as agriculture, domestic service and professional service. It did not attempt to calculate the total amount of unemployment.

The national industrial conference board, a statistical organization supported by corporations, has estimated total unemployment in the United States at 9,649,000, and the American Federation of Labor has placed it at 12,184,000.

The Sun's unemployment figure was based on a survey of the employment lists of more than 3,000 companies for 1929 and 1935.

The paper's characterizing of "preposterous" the statement of William Green, president of the A. F. of L., that "12,184,000 persons are without normal work."

In the news story accompanying comparative figures on employment in the type and kind of industry, Green's figures were described as "obviously erroneous." The newspaper called on him to give exact figures on employment in the industry and trade groups affiliated with the A. F. of L.

"Do you still hope to marry her?" he was asked.

"Well, the least I can get out of this is a long prison term," he replied. "But she is the only one I ever really loved."

Special Court Session.

District Attorney Lane did not know when Bramlett and Mrs. Childs would be given an examination to determine whether it was waived. There was talk of a special court session in Shelby county to hear the case. Indications were that the prisoners would be kept in jail here for the present.

In no brief moments Bramlett and Mrs. Childs were allowed together looking over the letter. Bramlett disclosed that today was her birthday.

"You know this is her birthday," he told an officer. "She is 24 years old. Send out and get her a nice box of candy and some attractive lingerie."

Two dollars was provided and a deputy sheriff went out to make the purchase.

Later, in her cell, she admitted it was her birthday but would not comment on it.

REAGAN BLANKED BRADFORD NINE IN FINE SUNDAY GAME

Magnolia Refiners downed the Bradford Transfers of Fort Worth at Magnolia Park Sunday afternoon, 2-0, in a game which was unreeled in 1 hour, 44 minutes, and was featured by a sensational pitchers' duel between Reagan of Magnolia and Craddock, left-hander, of the visitors. Reagan was never in serious trouble and was accorded excellent support by his mates. Craddock, on the other hand, deserved a better fate and errors, some of omission and commission, caused his downfall. Neither run was earned, and came after the side should have been retired.

Another feature of the fine ball game was the fact that the left-handed pitcher fanned nine Refiners and did not hit a man or issue a walk.

Sensational Fielding.

The fielding of J. Spencer, right-fielder, bordered on the sensational. This youngster is one of the fastest and surest heroes in the field among semi-pro circles and his performance at the bat was good. J. Spencer robbed Newcomb and Reagan of extra-base blows by reaching hard-hit balls that were labelled safeties.

Edwards' double-kills were uncorked, one by Bilderback, first-sacker, unassisted, and the other Robinson to Brown to Harris.

Harris, first-sacker of the Refiners, enjoyed a fine day both on the field and at the bat. He took position in a sensational manner, and connected with a double in the eighth for the only extra-base swat of the afternoon.

Threatening weather conditions cut down the attendance. The field was in perfect condition while there was no wind to mar the play and cause hit balls to be misjudged.

The Refiners will play their fourth game of the season here next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the Arp Oilers furnish the competition.

Magnolia has won two games and lost one thus far this year.

Bones Prehistoric Animal Discovered On Farm Near Here

Portions of a skeleton of some prehistoric animal have been discovered on a great pile of hay on Ray Ponder farm, five miles northwest of Purdon by PWA workers, according to C. B. Haley, Jr., of Corsicana, who exhibited a leg bone.

The bone crumbles shortly after the air reaches it.

Haley exhibited a section of the leg bone Friday afternoon in Corsicana. It was a great diameter. A rib of the monster animal of prehistoric times was found a few days ago and Haley reported that the rib was as large as a man's arm.

Efforts are being made to discover the remainder of the huge skeleton, and also the aid of local people is sought in determining the type and kind of animal. A portion of the skeleton is also to be sent to the PWA museum exhibit in the district headquarters at Palestine.

Grave of PWA work in the vicinity of Purdon is being procured from the pit where the bones were found.

Hawkins and Allen Purchase Grocery, Market Business

N. M. Hawkins and Guy Allen announced today their purchase of the Lyman T. Davis grocery and market at 405 North Beaton street, which they will operate in the future.

Under a new management, the store was opened for business Monday morning.

The new managers are re-stocking the entire store with a complete line of staple and fancy foods, meats, fruits and vegetables and plan in the near future to redecorate the interior of the store.

Roosevelt, hereafter "Plank."

Sinclair seeks, through this proposed delegation, to write an "end poverty" plank into the Democratic platform.

Representative McGroarty, is also seeking to throw his support to Mr. Roosevelt on the second ballot. He has outlined his aim as a Townsend old age pension plank in the platform.

The Republican struggles center around the ticket supporting Governor Landon, which is backed by Governor Frank Merriam and William Randolph Hearst, publisher, and an uncommitted slate headed by Republican State Chairman Earl Warren. Supporters of the latter slate announced yesterday that Col. Frank Knox had endorsed the idea of an uncommitted delegation.

In South Dakota.

In the South Dakota tomorrow's vote is to be a struggle between a slate pledged to Senator Borah, and an uncommitted one which is claimed by Landon supporters. The eight delegates to be selected are bound by the preference vote.

President Roosevelt was unopposed in the Democratic primary in South Dakota, but in Maryland today he again met the opposition of Col. Harry Brewster, who defeated New York Times defeated Breckinridge in Pennsylvania's primary last week.

Concluding his campaign in Baltimore last night Breckinridge, foe of the new deal, declared "congressmen have seized the machinery of government and the machinery of the party." Roosevelt leaders did not take the field to reply to Breckinridge, saying they did not believe his campaign warranted such action.

The results of the popular vote are binding upon the state convention in instructing the Maryland delegates to the national convention, Maryland has 16 votes in the national gathering.

Nice Did Not File.

Governor Harry W. Nice, Republican "favorite son" candidate did not file in the preferential primary because no opposition to him appeared. His supporters said the state convention would instruct the delegates to vote for him.

As the leaders prepared for the many primaries, there came from Democratic headquarters a claim of the largest nationwide Democratic registration in history.

"The Democratic vote in many states," the national committee said, "has been in excess of the total cast for competing Republican candidates."

The statement added that an estimated total of 750,000 votes for President Roosevelt in the Pennsylvania primary was "the largest ever recorded for a presidential candidate in a Pennsylvania primary," and was 150,000 greater than the total vote cast in the 1934 primary.

PROBE GOVERNMENT UNDERCOVER MEN'S ACTIVITIES SOUGHT

WASHINGTON DEMOCRATIC SENATOR OUTLINES DANGER OF REPORTED SPYING

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(P)—A senate investigation of charges of "spying and general all-around espionage" by "so-called undercover men employed by some government departments" was suggested in the senate today by Senator Bone (D-Wash.).

The Washington senator read the following statement before the senate:

"My attention has been directed to an article recently appearing in one of the local papers which condemns certain alleged practices of so-called undercover men employed by some government departments and who are charged with a low form of spying and general all-around espionage.

"I have been advised of at least one such instance, which seemed utterly indefensible case of this very thing. I am concerned over the fact that such practices may exist. If they are not checked by the salutary force of public opinion, they might readily lend themselves to the most odious form of oppression and coercion and easily become the basis of what might amount to political blackmail.

"What is to prevent such practices from being used to coerce members of congress into attitudes favorable to the ends sought by the people who control these undercover operators? If the activities of these men are not brought to light what is to prevent them from becoming instruments of tyranny in the hands of ambitious men?

To Offer Resolution.

"In the near future I shall have something to say about this matter and probably offer a resolution looking to an investigation by the senate to determine the extent to which its own members may have been the object of attention at the hands of the Nascent and budding Ogpu.

"If there be nothing to this now so frequently repeated charge, it might be well to lay this ghost of gossip by the heels and have an end to the unrecurrent of charges and cross-charges now so freely indulged in when members of congress meet for frank, private discussion of what is going on.

"I think that an official investigation, by the senate, is a healthy thing, and it would give an opportunity to the super-sleuths to come before the committee where the bright light of publicity could and would be turned on their work."

mon action by the government. This was interpreted in chamber of deputies lobbies as meaning that Blum wants his Communist allies to enter the cabinet and was expected that they would refuse to do so.

With all but four of the 618 districts accounted for, the returns showed this standing:

Center—378.

Right—99.

The "people's front" of Communists, Socialists and Radical-Socialists polled more than 600,000 of the total vote of 1,500,000 in returns available from yesterday's run-off elections.

The United-Socialist party, taking at least 145 of the 618 seats in the chamber, became the strongest single party, displacing the more moderate Radical-Socialists, who predominated in the last chamber but had won only 115 seats for the new house. The Communists took 32 seats, with other leftist groups making up the people's front total of 278.

The defeat of the Nationalist Right group was regarded generally as little short of a rout in view of their showing, as compared to their pre-election claims.

TAX BILL

"I want to say to those who have come from all corners of the country, that we may not be able to hear you we will hear those who hold the view that you do."

The first chamber spokesman, Fred H. Clausen, chairman of the finance committee, on fiscal finance, contending it failed to provide for balancing the budget.

"Businessmen generally recognize the necessity for an early return to a balanced budget," he said, "it is not possible to accept this bill as a means to that end."

Clausen said the added revenue from the bill was "highly uncertain and insufficient," that it would replace a tax system which promised substantial new revenues as business improved, and that any plan to balance the budget was unwelcome that did not provide for a collateral revenue in expenditures.

GOVERNMENT SAYS ALMOST THROUGH IN WILLACY CASE

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(P)—Testimony complete from its principal witnesses, the government set out today to conclude as quickly as possible its prosecution of seven men on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government on a $4,853,000 irrigation project in Willacy county, Texas.

"We're all through with our biggest witnesses," said Jack Fitch, assistant U. S. district attorney, "and it ought not to take more than two days to introduce the rest of our documentary evidence and take testimony from a few other persons."

Defense attorneys said they still contemplated asking Justice E. D. Lets of the District of Columbia supreme court for an instructed verdict of acquittal "because the government has not presented a case." George Hoover, chief of defense counsel, said if the request were denied, he probably would require four weeks to present his case. He said William A. Harding, one of the defendants, would testify two weeks.

The Public Works administration approved Dec. 9, 1933, an allocation of $4,853,000 for a project intended to provide 75,000 acres of land with irrigation from the Rio Grande. The government charges that after plans had been accepted for an open ditch, a canal of concrete, the defendants attempted to have a California redwood pipe pressure system substituted. The money has not been released.
